MUSTANG SURVIVAL AND YOUR INVENTION

If you would like to share an idea or invention with us, this document will help you understand how to proceed. The following information details the conditions upon which we may consider your invention.

Thank You

While our Innovation and Technology department is busy developing our products, we thank you for approaching us with your invention. It may be that your invention is suitable for us to pursue and be worthy of our slogan "We Save Lives for a Living".

Mustang Survival Conducts Business Fairly

If original, your invention will be respected as such. If your invention is not original, there is a good chance that we have seen it before. Original inventions are more likely to provide benefits. The process of determining the category in which your invention belongs is governed by some basic rules to avoid misunderstandings. Your invention should pass the following tests:

1. It is, or is associated with, a working product. Mustang Survival requires well thought out product and does not use this process for sales promotions or ideas.
2. It is a new invention to the public, industry and Mustang Survival.
3. It would be commercially viable for Mustang Survival.

Patents are Preferred

Mustang Survival Corp. prefers to work with people that have patented or patent protected inventions. Please forward a copy of the patent for your invention.

Non-patented Products

We would be interested in reviewing your unpatented invention, if you meet the following criteria:

1. You submit a signed New Product Disclosure form. This form may be found by clicking on the New Product Disclosure form link at the Mustang Survival website www.mustangsurvival.com.
2. You submit a detailed written description of your invention that may include photographs or drawings. Your submission should be focused and specific. Prototypes may be sent, on request, at a later date.

Please keep copies of all submissions for yourself.

Mustang Survival Will Review

Qualified Mustang Survival people will evaluate your submission. Please be patient during this period. Mustang Survival assumes no costs at this point in the process.

The Next Step

A signed formal Confidential Disclosure Agreement will be required if Mustang Survival decides to proceed past the evaluation stage. Negotiations will not be conducted until we have received a written Confidential Disclosure Agreement or issued patent.

Mustang Survival assumes no special obligation based on any disclosures. We cannot accept disclosures "in confidence" given the legal ramifications of the term. You must be the owner of the invention to have it considered by Mustang Survival. If younger than nineteen, you must have a parent or guardian sign the Confidential Disclosure Agreement.

Summary

1. Mustang Survival may consider your invention, but only at your request.
2. We must be assured that you have full legal rights to the invention.
3. Submission of your invention to Mustang Survival, including a New Product Disclosure form, does not establish a confidential relationship and we do not assure secrecy.
4. After evaluation, we are not obliged to provide feedback on your submission. We will let you know if your invention interests us. We will not divulge to you any prior related knowledge or knowledge obtained after your submission.
5. Mustang Survival assumes no obligations without a signed Confidential Disclosure Agreement. This agreement would be obtained after a successful evaluation.
6. Submitting your invention to Mustang Survival for evaluation releases no rights to any patent or patent application that you hold. Nor is Mustang Survival obligated to you, with respect to your invention, until a formal written agreement is completed.

Thank you for considering Mustang Survival.
